Examples of Calculation of Interest Rate:

Example 1: Assuming that, during a 91-day Interest Accrual Period commencing on or after August 31, 2007 and ending prior to [August 31, 2012], the value of 3m USD LIBORREF is greater than or equal to 0.00% and less than or equal to 7.00% on every calendar day in the applicable Interest Accrual Period, on the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Interest Rate per annum for the applicable Interest Accrual Period would be 8.00% calculated as follows: $8.00\% \times 91/91 = 8.00\%$ per annum.

Example 2: Assuming that, during a 91-day Interest Accrual Period commencing on or after August 31, 2007 and ending prior to [August 31, 2012], the value of 3m USD LIBORREF is less than 0.00% or greater than 7.00% on every calendar day in the applicable Interest Accrual Period, on the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Interest Rate per annum for the applicable Interest Accrual Period would be 0.00% calculated as follows: $8.00\% \times 0/91 = 0.00\%$ per annum.

Example 3: Assuming that, during a 91-day Interest Accrual Period commencing on or after August 31, 2007 and ending prior to [August 31, 2012], the value of 3m USD LIBORREF is greater than or equal to 0.00% and less than or equal to 7.00% on 50 calendar days in the applicable Interest Accrual Period, on the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Interest Rate per annum for the applicable Interest Accrual Period would be 4.3956% calculated as follows: $8.00\% \times 50/91 = 4.3956\%$ per annum.

Example 4: Assuming that, during a 91-day Interest Accrual Period commencing on or after [August 31, 2012] and ending prior to August 31, 2022, the value of 3m USD LIBORREF is greater than or equal to 0.00% and less than or equal to 7.00% on 20 calendar days in the applicable Interest Accrual Period, on the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Interest Rate per annum for the applicable Interest Accrual Period would be 2.1978% calculated as follows: $10.00\% \times 20/91 = 2.1978\%$ per annum.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in the Notes involves a number of significant risks not associated with similar investments in a conventional debt security, including, but not limited to, fluctuations in 3m USD LIBORREF and other events that are difficult to predict and beyond AIG’s control. Accordingly, prospective investors should consult their financial and legal advisors as to the risks entailed by an investment in the notes and the suitability of the notes in light of their particular circumstances.

Limitations on Returns on the Notes.

The interest payable on the notes is uncertain, and movements in the applicable LIBOR rate will affect whether or not and the extent to which you will receive interest on the notes in any Interest Accrual Period.

The maximum Interest Rates on the notes are, at all times to but excluding [August 31, 2012], 8.00%; and at all times from and including [August 31, 2012] to but excluding August 31, 2022, 10.00%. However, for every day during an Interest Accrual Period on which 3m USD LIBORREF is below the Lower LIBOR Barrier or above the applicable Upper LIBOR Barrier, the applicable Interest Rate for that Interest Accrual Period will be reduced, and accordingly, your return for any Interest Accrual Period over the life of the notes could be significantly less than maximum Interest Rate for that Interest Accrual Period. If 3m USD LIBORREF is below the Lower LIBOR Barrier or above the applicable Upper LIBOR Barrier on every day in any Interest Accrual Period, the applicable Interest Rate for that Interest Accrual Period will be zero.

Historical performance of 3m USD LIBORREF should not be taken as an indication of the future performance of 3m USD LIBORREF during the term of the notes.

It is impossible to predict whether 3m USD LIBORREF will increase or decrease. 3m USD LIBORREF will be influenced by complex and interrelated political, economic, financial and other factors; therefore, the historical performance of 3m USD LIBORREF should not be taken as an indication of future performance thereof during the term of the notes.

Factors that may affect the level of 3m USD LIBORREF include monetary policy, interest rate volatility, interest rate levels and the inflation rate.

Please note that historical trends are not indicative of future behavior of 3m USD LIBORREF.

The inclusion of compensation and projected profits from hedging in the original issue price is likely to adversely affect secondary market prices.

Assuming no change in market conditions or any other relevant factors, the price, if any, at which we (or any of our affiliates or any market maker) are willing to purchase the notes in secondary market transactions will likely be lower, and may be materially lower, than the price at which we sold the notes to the Agent. In addition, any such prices may differ from values determined by pricing models used by us or any of our affiliates or any market maker as a result of dealer discounts, mark-ups or other transactions.

Market factors may influence whether we exercise our right to redeem the notes prior to their scheduled maturity.

It is more likely that we will redeem the notes prior to their Stated Maturity Date to the extent that the calculation of the Interest Rate results in an amount of interest in respect of the notes greater than that for instruments of a comparable maturity and credit rating trading in the market. If we redeem the notes prior to their Stated Maturity Date, you may be unable to invest in securities with similar risk and yield as the notes and replacement investments may be more expensive than your investment in the notes. Your ability to realize market value appreciation and any interest is limited by our right to redeem the notes prior to their scheduled maturity.

There may not be an active trading market in the notes and sales prior to maturity may result in losses.

There may be little or no secondary market for the notes. We do not intend to list the notes on any stock exchange or automated quotation system, and it is not possible to predict whether a secondary market will develop for the notes. Even if a secondary market for the notes develops, it may not provide significant liquidity or result in trading of notes at prices advantageous to you. Sales in the secondary market may result in significant losses. Banc of America Securities LLC currently intends to act as market makers for the notes, but they are not required to do so, and may stop doing so at any time. We expect there will be little or no liquidity in the notes. The prices that may be offered in the secondary market for the notes will be discounted to reflect hedging and other costs and, among other things, changes of and volatility in interest rates in the market.

The market value of the notes may be influenced by unpredictable factors.

The market value of your notes may fluctuate between the date you purchase them and the Maturity Date. Several factors, many of which are beyond our control, will influence the market value of the notes. We expect that generally 3m USD LIBOR_{REF} on any day and expectations relating to the future level of 3m USD LIBOR_{REF} will affect the market value of the notes more than any other single factor. Other factors that may influence the market value of the notes include:

- supply and demand for the notes, including inventory positions held by any market maker;
- economic, financial, political and regulatory or judicial events that affect financial markets generally; interest rates in the market generally;
- the time remaining to maturity;
- our right to redeem the notes; and
- our creditworthiness and credit ratings.

We may have conflicts of interests arising from our relationships with the Calculation Agent.

You should be aware that AIG-FP, our subsidiary, in its capacity as Calculation Agent for the notes, is under no obligation to take your interests into consideration in determining the number of days on which interest will accrue, and is only required to act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. AIG-FP as Calculation Agent will, among other things, also determine the applicable Interest Rate payment to be made on the notes. Because these determinations by the Calculation Agent will affect the interest payments and the payment at maturity on the notes, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with its performance of its role as Calculation Agent.

ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

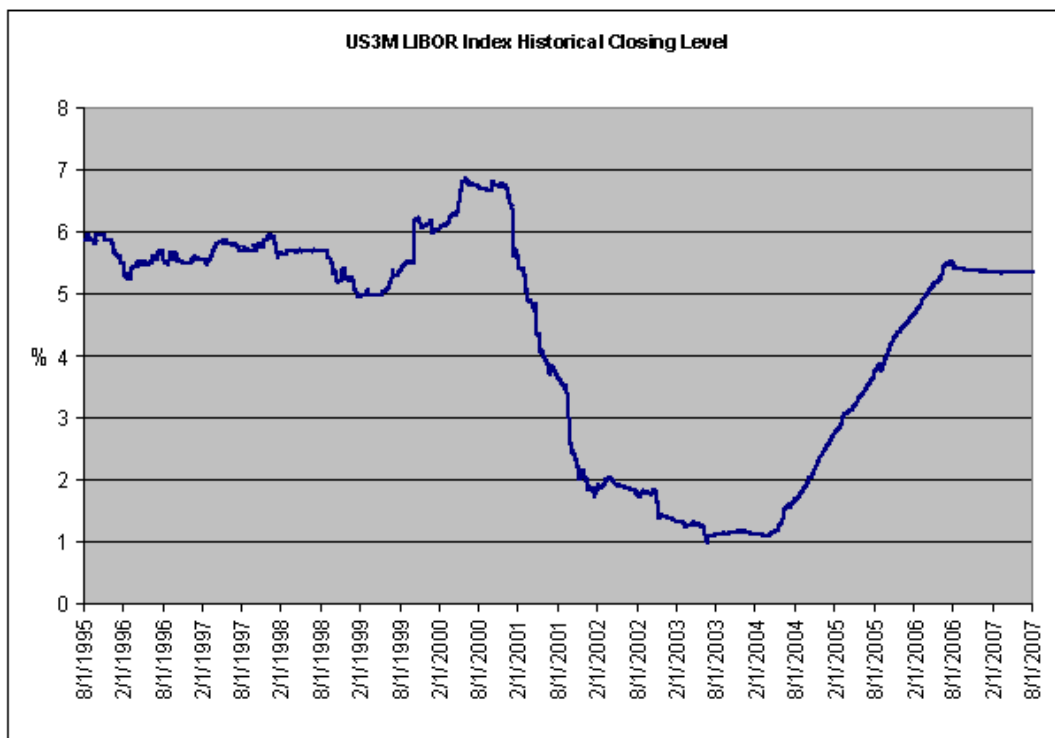

The notes may not be purchased or held by any employee benefit plan or other plan or account that is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”) or Section 4975 of the Code (each, a “plan”), or by any entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” by reason of any plan’s investment in the entity (a “plan asset entity”), unless in each case the purchaser or holder is eligible for exemptive relief from the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code under a prohibited transaction class exemption issued by the Department of Labor or another applicable statutory or administrative exemption. Each purchaser or holder of the notes will be deemed to represent that either (1) it is not a plan or plan asset entity and is not purchasing the notes on behalf of or with plan assets or (2) with respect to the purchase and holding, it is eligible for relief under a prohibited transaction class exemption or other applicable statutory or administrative exemption from the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code. The foregoing supplements the discussion under ERISA Considerations in the base prospectus dated July 13, 2007.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We intend to lend the net proceeds from the sale of the notes to our subsidiary AIG-FP or certain of its subsidiaries for use for general corporate purposes.

CERTAIN U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES

The U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning a note will depend in part on whether the notes are either “variable rate notes” or “contingent payment obligations” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The status of the notes as “variable rate notes” or “contingent payment obligations” will in turn depend in part on (i) the date on which the Interest Rate switches from 8.00% times the Interest Accrual Factor to 10% times the Interest Accrual Factor (the “Step-up Date”) and (ii) the expected maturity date of the notes taking into account, among other things, the Option Rule (as described below).

The final pricing supplement in respect of the notes will set forth the Step-up Date and will indicate whether the Issuer believes the notes are more appropriately classified as “variable rate notes” or as a “contingent payment obligations”. For a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning “variable rate notes”, please see the description under the heading “United States Taxation — United States Holders — Original Issue Discount — Variable Rate Notes” in the accompanying prospectus supplement. For a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of owning “contingent payment obligations”, please see the description under the heading “United States Taxation — United States Holders — Original Issue Discount — Notes Subject to Contingent Payment Obligation Rules” in the accompanying prospectus supplement.

With respect to determining the maturity date of the notes, under the U.S. Treasury Regulations governing original issue discount on debt instruments, for purposes of determining the yield and maturity of a debt instrument that provides the issuer an option to call the note, an issuer is generally deemed to exercise or not exercise an option or combination of options in a manner that minimizes the yield on the debt instrument (the “Option Rule”). The final pricing supplement will indicate whether and to what extent the Option Rule has been taken into account in determining the status of the notes, but as indicated in the Prospectus Supplement, the treatment of debt obligations subject to optional redemption rights is uncertain.

You should be aware that the presumption under the Option Rule described above is only applicable for purposes of determining the tax treatment of your notes. We are under no obligation to call, and we are not making any promise or representation that we will call, the notes prior to their Stated Maturity Date.
